

PLANNING AND ENVIRONMENT BAR ASSOCIATION

Membership of the Association is open to any barrister whose practice is such that a substantial proportion of it is in the fields of the law relating to town and country planning, the environment, compulsory purchase, highways, rating, housing, or local government finance and administration.

2011 - 12 HANDBOOK

It is hoped that this Handbook is up-to-date as at April 2011. Any apparent errors, editorial queries, or material to be included in the next edition, should be referred (in writing or by e-mail, please) to: the Editor, Melanie McIntosh, Becket Chambers, 17 New Dover Road, Canterbury, Kent CT1 3AS, [tel: (01227) 786 331; fax: (01227) 786 329; DX5330 Canterbury; email: clerks@becket-chambers.co.uk] or the Administrator, Mark Barlow, 4a Woodside Business Park, Whitley Wood Lane, Reading, RG2 8LW [tel: (0118) 987 3345; fax: (0118) 987 3366; e-mail: peba.administrator@cptevents.co.uk], from whom further copies of the Handbook may be obtained, price £10.00 excluding postage - cheques to be made payable to "PEBA".

For convenience, a Member's Detail Amendment Form is included at the back of this handbook.

It will be appreciated that although every effort has been taken to ensure that the details contained in this Handbook are correct, PEBA cannot bear responsibility for any actual or perceived loss arising from any errors or omissions.

A PDF version of this Handbook, along with other up-to-date information, may also be obtained on the Association's web-site at www.peba.info

FOREWORD

This Handbook gives details of the members of the Planning and Environment Bar Association ("PEBA"). Our members are barristers specialising in the fields of planning, environment, highways, rating, compulsory purchase, housing, town and village greens and other aspects of local government administration and finance. We undertake a wide range of advisory work and appearances in the civil and criminal courts, public inquiries, examinations, hearings and tribunals on behalf of anyone in need of expert advice and representation. Several of our members are also trained mediators.

In representing its members, PEBA is in frequent contact with Government departments and agencies, organisations such as the National Planning Forum and other professional bodies. There is constant change in our fields of activity. The Coalition Government has embarked on reform of the system of planning and local government via its Localism Bill and review of National Planning Policy. PEBA has responded to both these initiatives by making formal representations and by maintaining active liaison with CLG. As well as our regular involvement with PINS, we have also established good relations with the IPC and are, as ever, seeking to assist those responsible for policy formulation, administrators and decision makers in a changing environment in which the Bar, together with local government and planning systems, faces many challenges.

We place great emphasis on continuing education for our members. The National Conference on 10 June 2011 will examine the theme of 'Building the Recovery'. Our keynote speaker is Mr Justice Lindblom. On May 16 2011 we participated in a joint seminar on the Environmental Tribunal with the United Kingdom Environmental Law Association, following our successful collaboration earlier in the year on the Localism Bill.

We have long supported pro bono representation for persons who would otherwise be unable to obtain legal help. We support the DCLG funded Planning Aid scheme and a number of our members are members of the Bar Pro Bono Panel.

As ever, we hope you will find this Handbook useful. Our web-site (www.peba.info) contains further information.

Membership forms can be downloaded from the PEBA web-site (www.peba.info).

INSTRUCTING A MEMBER OF PEBA

Any member of the Association may accept instructions from a solicitor. Alternatively, in the case of most, if not all members, instructions may be given by a member of any of the professions recognised by the Bar Council for the purpose of Licensed Access (formerly Direct Professional Access, latterly BarDIRECT).

LICENSED ACCESS

Since April 1989, members of a number of professional bodies, in addition to solicitors, have been able to seek advice direct from barristers (counsel), and may instruct barristers in non-court litigation in relation to matters which are within their normal professional expertise.

This scheme (previously known as Direct Professional Access (DPA)) has proved to be a popular way of instructing members of the Association, particularly in relation to obtaining legal advice and representation before inquiries and tribunals—including the Upper Tribunal (Lands Chamber) —and in magistrates courts.

The bodies whose members may instruct barristers, so far as relevant to the types of work carried out by members of the Association, currently include the following:

- Architects Registration Board
- Association of Consultant Architects
- Commissioner for Local Administration
- The Royal Institute of British Architects
- The Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors
- The Royal Town Planning Institute.

The scheme does not extend to instructing barristers to appear in the higher courts—including County Courts, the Crown Court, and the Employment Appeal Tribunal. Nor does it operate if at any stage a barrister considers that the interests of the lay client or the administration of justice require that a solicitor be instructed.

In addition, a number of other bodies have been granted group licences (formerly under the BarDIRECT scheme), enabling their members to instruct members of the Association, but only on certain matters. They include the following:

- The Academy of Experts
- The Institute of Legal Executives
- The Landscape Institute.

The contact details for all of these bodies are in Part Five of this Handbook. Both the Bar Council and the relevant professional body can provide guidance notes on how to instruct a barrister.

More details of the Licensed Access scheme, including a complete and up-to-date list of bodies that have licences, may be obtained by visiting the Bar Council web-site (www.barcouncil.org.uk); or contact James Woolf or Natasha Foy at the Bar Council, 289-293 High Holborn, London, WC1V 7HZ; tel: (020) 7242 0082; fax: (020) 7831 9217.

PUBLIC ACCESS

Since July 2004, it has been possible for members of the public to instruct barristers directly, without the need to employ a professionally qualified intermediary, in relation to certain categories of work.

However, this applies only where the barrister concerned, and at least one clerk in his or her chambers, has been appropriately trained. Even then, it does not apply where the barrister considers that the case is complex and will require work to be undertaken by a solicitor or other qualified person, or that the interests of the lay client require the involvement of such a person, or that the proposed fee is insufficient. For further details, the Bar Council's web-site (www.barcouncil.org.uk) should be consulted.

The full list of PEBA Members trained to accept Public Access work is to be found by visiting the PEBA web-site at www.peba.info.

THE BAR PRO BONO UNIT

The Unit is a charity that was established in 1996 to provide pro bono (free) legal advice and representation in deserving cases where the applicant is unable to afford legal assistance and where Legal Aid is not available.

Advice and representation is provided by barristers who have volunteered to join the Bar Pro Bono Panel. The Panel consists of barristers—both juniors and QCs—from all over England and Wales, including members of the Association, each of whom has offered his or her services free of charge for at least three days a year.

For further details contact the Bar Pro Bono Unit at 48 Chancery Lane, London, WC2A 1JF, (DX: 188 London, / Chancery Lane), tel: (020) 7072 3960; fax: (020) 7611 9505; e-mail: enquiries@barprobono.org.uk. All applications for assistance must be made in writing on the Unit's application form (on its web-site: www.barprobono.org.uk).

THE ENVIRONMENTAL LAW FOUNDATION

The Environmental Law Foundation (ELF) is a charity that has a number of barristers and solicitors, including some members of the Association, who are willing to provide a free initial advice in relation to environmental (including planning) problems, by means of an individual licence under the Licensed Access scheme.

This service is available to private individuals, community organisations and similar bodies. For details, contact the ELF, 2-10 Princeton Street, London, WC1R 4BH; tel: (020) 7404 1030; fax: (020) 7404 1032; DX: LDE 138300 and e-mail: info@elflaw.org or visit www.elflaw.org.

PLANNING AID

For those who require planning advice, there is a network of Planning Aid services available across the country (organised by the RTPi). Planning Aid provides free, independent and professional help, advice and support on planning issues to people and communities who cannot afford to hire a planning consultant. For all general enquiries, contact the Planning Aid National Unit, 6th Floor Newwater House, 11 Newhall Street, Birmingham, B3 3NY (tel: (0121) 214 2900 and fax: (0121) 236 5716); e-mail: info@planningaid.rtpi.org.uk. See also its web-site at www.planningaid.rtpi.org.uk, which has the details of all the other offices.

In London, the service is provided by Planning Aid for London, which is a long-established independent charity (and funded by the Association of London Government, the CLG and the RTPi). PAL can be contacted at The Planning Aid Resource Centre, Unit 3.01, Whitechapel Technology Centre, 65-67 Whitechapel Road, London, E1 1DU (tel: (020) 7247 4900; fax: (020) 7247 8005; email: info@planningaidforlondon.org.uk). See also its web-site at www.planningaidforlondon.org.uk.

PART TWO MEMBERS OF PEBA

This Part of the Handbook lists all those who are currently members of the Association. The web-site of the member's chambers should be visited for further details of the member's past experience, specialist expertise, publications, other qualifications and judicial or other appointments. The date immediately following the name of each member is the date on which he or she was called to the Bar of England and Wales; call to the Bar in another jurisdiction is only recorded if it was prior to call in England and Wales. As for membership of other bars—including those of Scotland, Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland—in other circumstances, the relevant chamber's web-site should be consulted.

PART THREE CHAMBERS CONTAINING PEBA MEMBERS

This Part of the Handbook lists, on a geographical basis, all barristers' chambers containing one or more members of the Association, and all members of the Association working as sole practitioners. The e-mail address given is that of the clerks.

The date immediately following the name of each member is the date on which he or she was called to the Bar of England and Wales; call to the Bar in another jurisdiction is only recorded if it was prior to call in England and Wales. As for membership of other bars—including those of Scotland, Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland—in other circumstances, the relevant chamber's web-site should be consulted.

Up-to-date information may be obtained on the Association's web-site—www.peba.info.

SOME USEFUL LINKS

The information in this section is believed to be accurate as at April 2011.

The telephone number given is in most cases that of a general switchboard or enquiry office; most officials in large organisations have direct lines. E-mail addresses and fax numbers should be ascertained by telephoning the person to whom the e-mail or fax is to be sent, or by reference to the relevant web-site.

Up-to-date information may be obtained on the Association's web-site—www.peba.info.

In many cases the most up-to-date information may be obtained from the web-site of the organisation concerned, which may also be a good source of links to other, related web-sites.
